

POPE LEO IS STILL ALIVE

His Holiness Is Very Weak, But He Still Shows Remarkable Power.

LITTLE HOPE LEFT

Physicians Do Not Expect That He Will Live Through Thursday, if as Long.

(Special By Scripps-McIntae.)

Rome, July 15.—After a night filled with rumors of the pope's death and that he was in his last stupor the day dawned finding his holiness still alive. The official bulletin is most anxiously awaited to find his exact condition. His heart and half lung continue to act weakly but these signs with only an occasional flash of mental activity show that he is yet alive. Many believe that he will die tomorrow as he had predicted.

Wire Sent

Washington, July 15.—Cardinal Rampolla this morning wired the papal legation in this city that his holiness had passed a fairly tranquil night and that his condition remains the same.

Atonishes Doctors.

To the doctors his remarkable rally seems almost miraculous. "I cannot imagine how the Pope manages to keep alive," said Dr. Lapponi. "It is wonderful. Yet he may die at any moment—even during one of these extraordinary intervals during which his mind and body appear comparatively sound."

In one respect his holiness is worse. While the functional disorders from which he has suffered seem greatly relieved his strength is steadily declining. His respiration is somewhat troublesome, though no worse than before his last period of depression.

All those around the patient have long since ceased to hold definite opinions regarding the duration of his existence. The slow but progressive diminution of his strength foretells the approaching end, but the doctors will not venture to predict how near it is.

Gradually Failing.

Constant relapses, they say, are gradually wearing down the Pope's constitution, which seems immune from any specific disease. Three causes may accelerate the end—continued inability to take nourishment, sudden heart failure, or the progression of pleura disease.

The latter is thought the least probable. As day succeeds day it becomes pathologically clearer that it is a case of a very old man dying because he has lived his allotted time.

The Pope himself Tuesday afternoon ordered the four Cardinals to be admitted and received them standing, he, who is supposed to be at the point of death, saying, "Please be seated."

The Cardinals informed him of the world-wide prayers for his life. Pope Leo answered that he was much gratified, but that he was ready for his final departure, concluding by saying: "God's will be done."

Sends for Secretary.

Even more striking was the Pope's interview with his secretary, Monsignor Angeli. His holiness sent for him saying that he wished to see certain papers, which the secretary brought. Then, after a short explanation, Monsignor Angeli wished to get the Pope's decision on the matter, but Pope Leo said: "Well, well, not today. We will do that some other time."

A curious controversy is proceeding between the Vatican medical body, composed of ten doctors of lesser importance than Dr. Lapponi, and several foreign physicians over the embalming of Pope Leo's body. Several foreigners having offered processes of embalming, each more wonderful than the other, the papal doctors unearthed pontifical bulls giving the right to embalm the pope solely to the Vatican medical body.

Spirit Clings to Body.

That the remarkable tenacity with which the pontiff clings to life only increases his suffering is the opinion of all who see him. Those who love him best wish the end might be no longer delayed. He is literally dying by inches.

The degeneration of nature, gentle decay, is making rapid progress, induced chiefly by uric acid and other poisons, which are no longer eliminated by the natural functions.

Indications of what is virtually local mortification are plainly visible on the limbs and even on the throat, yet the spirit refuses to leave the hopelessly exhausted body, and the mind remains clear the greater portion of the time.

It is certain that the body will not survive for many hours when once the dying pontiff's indomitable will succumbs, yet he still takes interest in the world. To Cardinal Satolli, one of his visitors, he spoke, urging him to his new duty of instructing the clergy in defense of the divine inspiration of the Scriptures against attacks originating from the recent discoveries of ancient records purporting to show an earlier and profane origin for portions of the Bible. Most of the time the pope pays little attention to his own condition. Pain is absent, but there is a growing sense of prostration. During his semi-unconscious intervals he murmurs frequently in Latin, "Thy will be done."

The true nature of the pope's illness probably will not be disclosed until after his death. There is the best authority for saying that the post-mortem examination is expected to reveal a cancer in the pleural cavity. This is a return of the disease which manifested itself in a tumor which was removed from the pope's side three years ago.

It is the opinion of his physicians that the pope's marvelous vitality would have kept him alive until he was well past his hundredth year if it were not for this malignant growth.

Pontiff Is Delirious.

Monday night was the worst his holiness has passed since his illness commenced. Periods of partial coma alternated with more and more violent attacks of delirium. Several times he fainted and once or twice he had attacks of vomiting. More than once his physicians practically gave up hope. They admitted that the pontiff's death was near. In their opinion it was likely to result either from cardiac paralysis or, if a few days deferred, from cerebral anæmia, which is the cause of the attacks of delirium.

As daylight approached the periods of delirium became accentuated, both with regard to the length of the hallucinations and the shortness of the lucid intervals. The pope's mutterings were not always intelligible, but seemed to relate to the history of events of many years ago, which, being unknown to these present, neither Dr. Lapponi nor Centra succeeded in comprehending.

At times he seemed again to see apparitions. When his attendants tried to persuade him to the contrary he insisted on indicating the presence of some imaginary shadow which he not only sees but hears.

Falls Into Deep Sleep.

About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning he dropped into an uneasy slumber, awoke at 5:30, spoke intelligently to his attendants and soon afterward fell into a heavy sleep. He awoke before the morning examination, but remained very drowsy until Dr. Mazzoni arrived. Occasionally he asked for a small glass of the Tokay wine sent him by Emperor Francis Joseph, which he has seemed particularly to enjoy.

The doctors noticed in the morning the appearance of oedema, or swelling of the lower extremities. They agreed also to have oxygen again kept in readiness, as the Pope's breathing was becoming more and more difficult.

Though the patient's condition was not as lucid during the forenoon as earlier in his illness, he fully realized his imminent danger. The doctors tried to conceal it, but after their departure he turned to his valet with the remark:

Asks for Benediction.

"I think I know better. My time is running short. Before it is too late I wish to speak to Rampolla."

A few minutes later Cardinal Rampolla entered the sick room and remained fifteen minutes alone with the pontiff. Then the latter said:

"I now wish to have the Franciscan benediction."

Cardinal Vives Tuto, who is a Capuchin, was at the Vatican and he entered the sick room and fulfilled the wish of the pope, who afterward said he felt relieved and easy in his mind.

The moment was most solemn, the strong, bearded figure of Cardinal Vives y Tuto making a striking contrast with the emaciated, white form of Leo XIII, who seemed as though a breath of air would waft him straight to heaven.

While Cardinal Vives y Tuto was in the sick room the pope succeeded in reciting the confiteor and then gave the apostolic benediction to the whole Franciscan order.

Gives Property to Holy See. Then, evidently feeling that the end was really approaching, he took much trouble in giving his last instructions. Speaking with evident effort to his private secretaries, Monsignors Angeli and Marzolini, he repeated the directions previously given that all the presents received by him on the occasion of his jubilee in 1885, which are of the greatest value, shall be the property of the holy see. He told in which drawer would be found the most costly, which are to be personally delivered to his successor.

With an evident feeling of sadness the pontiff spoke of all the sacred objects he had gathered. Behind a screen in his library are the presents given his holiness on the occasion of this year's jubilee. These are destined for poor churches. The pontiff expressed the hope that if he were not alive on the "name day," St. Joachim's day (Aug. 16), the usual fete would be given.

PARIS ENJOYS BIG FETE DAY

Anniversary of the Fall of the Bastille, Was Most Joyously Kept.

Paris, July 15.—The French national holiday, celebrating the fall of the Bastille, was enthusiastically celebrated today in brilliant weather. The main feature was to review the garrison of Paris. The troops assembled at Longchamps at an early hour before the heat became oppressive. Many spectators witnessed the arrival of the soldiers, cheering the favorite corps as they reached the grounds. Gen. Andre, minister of war, accompanied by a brilliant staff and the foreign military attaches, soon followed.

At 9 o'clock, an artillery salute announced the arrival of President Loubet who was accompanied by Premier Combes and other cabinet ministers and the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, whom Gen. Andre and the military governor of Paris and their staffs escorted to the reviewing stand. Mme. Loubet soon followed and the review commenced ending with the usual distribution of decorations.

Rockford Officers Find Description of the Missing Man Tallies Well

Few more promising clues in the Tebbetts murder case have been followed by the Rockford police than that which they were working out in this city yesterday.

The photographs secured of the man whom they were hunting for, and who was once convicted of a crime possibly similar to that at Rockford, are said by Rockford parties who saw the suspect and the boy together to indicate that the officers may be on the right trail.

The only way in which the photograph and the man differ is that the man was a trifle heavier in the picture than when seen at Rockford.

Compel Them to Leave the Trains and Go to Work in Harvest Fields.

Topeka, Kas., July 15.—One squad of eastern college students, which was started from Topeka to the harvest fields of Ness county yesterday failed to reach its destination. At Otis the train was boarded by a crowd of wheat growers who forced the students to leave the train after a pitched battle.

PETER OF SERBIA PLANNED CRIMES

Paris Paper Makes a Most Sensational Charge Against the Present Ruler.

Paris, July 15.—Under the caption, "The truth about the tragedy in Belgrade," Gil Blas yesterday printed an article written by M. De Preignand, in which the writer openly accuses King Peter of having been the leader of the Serbian conspiracy.

The leader of the plot, he says, was in Geneva, and was Peter Karagevitch, who, through his secretary, gave the orders for the assassination of King Alexander, Queen Draga, and the various members of the cabinet.

AGED MAN IS HUNG BY MOB

Kentucky Residents Tire of Law Quibbles and Hold Special Session of Lynch Court.

WAS FIFTY-SEVEN

William Thacker, the Victim, Had Twice Been Convicted of Murder of Jordan.

(Special By Scripps-McIntae.)

Flemingsburg, Ky., July 15.—Angered by the delay of justice in condemning William Thacker for the murder of John Gordon at Foxport three years ago, a mob last night took the prisoner from the county jail and hanged him to a tree at the edge of the village.

Twice Sentenced

Thacker, who is fifty-seven years of age, was twice convicted of murder and sentenced to prison by each time he secured a new trial and was at present waiting his third trial for the crime when seized by the mob and hung. The long delay in securing a conviction that would hold an appeal from the court of appeals, was directly responsible for the act of last night.

Cries Piteously

The keys of the jail were secured by strategy and the victim was hauled by ropes through the village streets howling piteously for mercy until he lost consciousness from the battering on the head of the stones of the roadway. He was strung up with little ceremony by the mob who left him swinging and then quietly dispersed. The sheriff knew nothing of the action until too late to stop it.

LOOKED UP THE DIAMOND THEORY

New York Diamond Merchant Was Here and Made Inquiries Regarding Jewels.

G. Armeny and wife departed yesterday after a visit of several days at the home of George S. Parker. Mr. Armeny is a prominent New York diamond merchant, and he has been making inquiries regarding the recently exploited theory that diamonds exist in almost any old back yard.

Mr. Armeny appeared to regard the theory as one which merited sober investigation, although he was not over sanguine as to its accuracy.

Accounts of the recent discoveries of diamonds, or alleged diamonds, in the earth between Chicago and Milwaukee have appeared in the Gazette from time to time.

AMERICAN FLAG MUCH RESPECTED

It Is Used as a Signal of Peace in the Venezuelan Revolution.

Soledad, Venezuela, July 15.—The situation before Ciudad Bolivar is unchanged. It was reported last night that the revolutionists had evacuated the city, but this turns out to be incorrect. Yesterday afternoon a boat bearing United States and parliamentary truce flags left Ciudad Bolivar and crossed the Orinoco to LaSoledad.

President Castro's authorities received the emissary, a priest, who said he came in the name of the foreign consuls, the bishops and leading trades to ask General Gomez, the government commander, to receive him tomorrow, saying he had an important message for him. Learning that General Gomez was not at Soledad the priest departed.

The press correspondents questioned him concerning his reasons for hoisting the United States flag, as he was not an American. The priest replied:

"Because the flag of the United States is respected everywhere."

The priest refused to reveal the object of his mission. At 11 o'clock last night the man-of-war Bolivar, with Gomez aboard, arrived here. As she passed before Ciudad Bolivar she was fired upon, but without effect.

The remainder of the Venezuelan fleet composed of the Zamora, Restaurador, Miranda and Vente-Tre de Mayo, are due tomorrow. When they have arrived 4,200 men will be ready to attack Ciudad Bolivar.

REPLIES TO THE ENGLISH APPEAL

American Cabinet Officer Says That Peas and Beans Will Solve the Famine Problem.

Washington, July 15.—An appeal from the office of the colonial secretary of England as to how the present famine conditions in India can be improved and the inhabitants given more adequate means of sustaining life has been made to secretary of Agriculture Wilson. Inquiry made by Mr. Wilson revealed the fact that the people of India are living on rice alone and have only one meal a day. Under the circumstances Mr. Wilson was not surprised to learn that the number of deaths by starvation in India is greater than those of the births.

In response to the British appeal Secretary Wilson replied: "Mix the rice with ground peas or beans and you will have plenty of food for all. Less food will be required and greater strength will result."

Secretary Wilson believes the soil of India will produce peas and beans in great abundance. These, mixed with rice, he says will make a muscle and brain producing food.

BOERS PLAN TO COLONIZE MEXICO

Senator Butler Sells 100,000 Acres of Land to General's Joubert and O'Donnell.

Monterey, Mex., July 15.—Marion Butler, United States senator from North Carolina, returned to Monterey last night from a trip to the state of Tamaulipas, where he closed a contract with the Boer generals, Joubert and O'Donnell, for 100,000 acres of land, to be used for colonization purposes by the Boers. The tract is located between the Sota La Marina river and the Carnazal river and fronts the entire distance on the gulf of Mexico. An option also was taken on an additional 100,000 acres, the sale of which probably will be consummated before the end of the year.

ROOSEVELT IS WORKING HARD

In Probing the Postoffice Scandal to the Very Bottom, with Bonaparte.

TODAY'S MEETING

President Has a Long Conference with the Attorney Who Is To Prosecute Case.

(Special By Scripps-McIntae.)

Oyster Bay, July 15.—President Roosevelt today began a long review of the post office scandal with Attorney Bonaparte of Baltimore who has been appointed by Attorney General Knox to follow the case up and prosecute it and punish the guilty parties in the gigantic frauds thus far disclosed.

President's Ideas. It is understood that Mr. Bonaparte came to Oyster Bay at the request of the president so that he might more fully become in accord with the plans and ideas of just what is to be done in the matter. They had a long conference this morning and Mr. Bonaparte was asked to stay to lunch which he did.

Other Guests. Aside from Mr. Bonaparte President Roosevelt asked Secretary Shaw, Ray Stannard Baker, writer, and H. H. Kohlsaat of Chicago to be his guests. It is said the other three men had no connection with Mr. Bonaparte's visit.

VENEZUELA HAS NEW MINISTER

General Hernandez Is Appointed Representative at Washington by the Little Republic.

Washington, July 15.—Don Augusto F. Pulido, the Venezuelan charge d'affaires called at the state department today formally to announce the appointment of General Hernandez as Venezuelan minister at Washington, and himself as the first secretary of legation.

The Washington government had already advised President Castro that both selections were satisfactory, but Secretary Hay took occasion again today to express his personal gratification at the appointment of the distinguished veteran here and Mr. Pulido's promotion from second secretary to be secretary of legation.

General Hernandez is expected to arrive here next week and will come to Washington at once from New York. Venezuela has been without a minister at Washington since 1899 when Mr. Andrade was promoted from this post to be Venezuelan minister at London, where he afterward died. Mr. Pulido, then second secretary, was left as charge d'affaires and since that time has represented his government here in that capacity.

IRISH CRIMES ACT REVOKED

Thought the Move May Please the Irishmen Who Oppose Cing's Visit

Dublin, July 15.—An official announcement was made today that the crimes act had been revoked. This step coming on the eve of King Edward's visit to Ireland, gives great satisfaction. Both here and in Belfast elaborate preparations are being made to decorate and illuminate the cities. The king is certain to have a most enthusiastic welcome, and general regret is expressed that the question of presenting an address to his majesty should have been forced to a division in the Dublin corporation, which, in spite of the decision arrived at, is giving the committee every facility for the decoration of the streets.

POPE'S FORTUNE IS NOT GREAT

Leo XIII. Spent Most of His Money Doing Good for the Church.

London, July 15.—Regarding the pope's personal fortune and the disposition of it the Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent says: "The pope's last will is already in the hands of his executors, who are Cardinals Cretoni, Moceni, and Rampolla. It contains no bequests for his kindred, who have already received what he could afford to bestow. His personal estate must be less than that of his predecessors owing to financial losses incurred many years ago and to large sums expended in maintaining colleges and in carrying on missionary work in India and other parts of the east, and to the expenses in connection with the attempted reunion of oriental and Latin churches. All the property belonging to him as pope, is bequeathed to the church.

COTTON MILLS NEED SUPPLIES

GREAT CORNER ON PRODUCT RAISES PRICES.

MAY AFFECT LOCAL CONCERN

Mr. Howe, of the Rock River Cotton Mill, Talks of Prospect and Conditions.

"Cotton is today higher than it has been for years," said Fred H. Howe, of the Rock River Cotton company, yesterday. "It is now 14 1/2 cents and the highest that it has been for some time previous to this was 12 cents." For a number of years it has averaged eight and nine cents per pound. The present high price is due to the "brown corner" in cotton. As a result perhaps two-thirds of the mills in the country have shut down, and some of them are selling the raw cotton in the bales, it bringing more than in the manufactured form. The present prices of "brown sheetings" and cotton in the baling form also are this week lower in price than cotton in the bale. The result of this has been that manufacturers who did not have on hand a supply of the raw material to carry them over were obliged to cease work for the time, either until the "corner" breaks or until the new crop comes on the market which will be in October. It is not thought that the present price will continue much longer.

Big Money if Successful
The man who is responsible for this condition is a New Orleans product. His stock was probably bought at a price in the neighborhood of 8 or 9 cents so that if he succeeds he is realizing a profit of about fifteen dollars a bale. If the price does not break, Brown will be two or three million to the good. In the past there has been more or less importing of cotton from Egypt but the condition of the market now is causing some stock to be even shipped back from Germany.

Decrease in Texas
Contrary to the general belief regarding the total area planted to cotton in Texas, the Dallas News, after careful investigation, finds a decrease in acreage in the state of 8.54 per cent. This result was obtained after a careful and painstaking review of reports from 427 correspondents, covering 145 counties of the state, the reports being of an average date of July 5.

Divided into Districts
For convenience in investigating the state was divided into five districts—North Texas, from which 120 reports were received; East Texas, 36 reports; Central Texas, 117 reports; coast counties, 47 reports; and Southwest Texas, 51 reports. The percentage of acreage in these districts, as compared with that of last year, is as follows: North Texas, 101 1/2; Central Texas, 102; East Texas, 19 1/2; coast counties, 66 2/3; Southwest Texas, 96.

Reports Vary
The results of the season are uncertain. The crop generally is advancing rapidly and the plant is in a healthy condition, but in all cases the correspondents report it from to four days late. North Texas is not troubled with weevils and other insects, but with much grass and weeds. Central Texas has both grass and weevils, with other insects. There the boll weevils are doing great damage in fields near timber, and though many prairie fields have escaped, the pest is making its appearance in large numbers. The reports vary, the plant being small and with poor stands in some counties, and healthy, with even stands in others. East Texas, though showing a decrease in acreage, reports flattering prospects. Southwest Texas reports weevils and many poor stands, but with improving conditions. The coast county cotton is also reported doing well.

BIG CROPS SEEM ENTIRELY SAFE

Farmers Bring in Good Reports from All Sections of the Country.

The present promising condition for large crops of grain hay and garden produce in the vicinity of Janesville has not been equalled in many seasons. Farmers are bringing in good reports from all directions. The recent storms of wind and rain have done some damage but in general the effect has been salutary. Haying has been retarded some and that which was cut before the rains will be a loss but the crop is a heavy one. Timothy has had unusual growth and clover has done exceptionally well.

The Grains
Except in a few places where oats and barley are down and lodged these grains are looking well and promise good crops. Barley cutting is in progress and oat cutting will begin next week. Corn it was feared would be disappointing but improved it substantially particularly recent rains and warm weather has improved it substantially particularly the early plantings. East of the city it is six feet high in places and generally is too far advanced for the use of the cultivator. The old saying that unless corn is knee high by July 4 it will be a failure is becoming discredited.

White Clover
The busy bees are working under most auspicious conditions. The meadows are a mass of white clover producing the choicest white honey which always commands good prices in the local market.

Some damage was done to fruit trees near Milton by the recent storms. Broken branches and trunks of the smaller attest the severity of the elements. Cherries always uncertain owing to the ravages of worms and birds are good in quality but fair only in quantity.

Potatoes
Potatoes will yield a large crop and the early varieties already on the market are uniformly good in size and quality. The potato bug is making itself particularly obnoxious in many sections besides being unusually prolific.

Cucumbers
An experiment with many about the city have been sown in considerable quantity owing to the inducements of a ready market at the pickle factory. They have been greatly benefited by the recent warm weather and give every promise of meeting all expectations.

Many Greenhouses
Considerable attention is being given to the subject of greenhouses or forcing houses in this neighborhood. The fancy prices which early fruits berries tomatoes cucumbers and lettuce always bring in our market and which can be raised in this way prove remunerative to such a degree that those now engaged in it are contemplating improvements and extensions.

NEW BAND STAND FOR THE IMPERIALS

West Steps of Court House Pressed Into Service—Splendid Solo by George Gray.

Opinions varied as to the success of the band stand pressed into service by the Imperial band for their concert last evening. The west approach to the courthouse made a convenient place, and did away with the necessity of building the temporary stand commonly used, and the steps made convenient seats for the listeners. But it is doubtful whether to music carried as far, or was heard to as good advantage as from the customary position.

A clarinet solo by George Gray was received with applause so insistent that he was forced to repeat a part of the solo.

Despite the drop in the mercury the size of the crowd was undiminished.

DOINGS AT THE RAILWAY CENTER

Personals of Employees in the Local Yards and Along the Line.

A special car having on board several St. Paul road officials was in Janesville yesterday. Some of those on board were Assistant General Superintendent Earling and Division Superintendent Eldredge. They went from Milwaukee to Mineral Point and there visited all the branches of the Mineral Point division. From here the party left last night for Madison to continue inspecting the different divisions of the road.

If plans of the Rock Island materialize, the individual mileage ticket will be extended to its western branches, where it has not before been recognized, and will practically result in a 2 cents a mile passenger rate.

All station men and road men of the North-Western will receive their pay tomorrow. Conductors and firemen and trainmen get their wages today.

Engineer A. H. Shekey of the North-Western road who has been on the Burlington run is off duty today.

The expected cut to $8 for the round trip between the Twin cities and Chicago has as yet not materialized.

During the fiscal year ending June 30 the Canadian Pacific realized $4,500,000 more from land sales than it did the previous year.

It has developed that several lines have been selling the $1 round trip rate from intermediate points to Chicago as well as from the Twin cities.

Vice President Bird of the Gould lines has been in New York in consultation with George J. Gould.

It is predicted that the earnings of the merger road as estimated by J. J. Hill will be exceeded $1,500,000.

Bert Brigham of the North-Western line will leave tomorrow for a two weeks vacation.

Engineer F. Shumway of the North Western is relieving Mr. Shekey.

Engineer Hampton, of the C. & N. W. has returned to the Baraboo stock run.

Notice has been given by the Rock Island that on and after Sept. 1 it will pay the rebates on the individual mileage books used on its lines.

EVANSVILLE BANK IS RE-ORGANIZED

New Articles of Incorporation Filed with the Register of Deeds—The Grange Bank.

In accordance with the new state banking laws, the reorganization of the private banks is being carried on. Articles incorporating the Grange bank of Evansville under the new law were filed with the register of deeds yesterday.

The capital stock of the bank is set at $10,200. Each of the three incorporators, F. C. Richardson, J. P. Porter, and V. C. Holmes, owns thirty-four shares of stock.

About 150 private banks in this state will come under the provisions of the law and will be re-incorporated.

According to the new Baraboo city directory the population of Baraboo is 6,300.

HOW TO TRAIN UP COLTS PROPERLY

Best Results Are Always Obtained by Starting When the Animal Is Very Young.

Evidently the best results cannot be obtained from children turned loose until old enough to work. Education with a child begins from infancy and the principal obedience is emphasized at the first awakening of intelligence. Otherwise there is a spoiled child or a wild youth.

The same theory is said to hold good with horses as with men says a writer in the New York Tribune. The old way to train the horse was to "break" the animal. The colt was allowed to romp about for a year or two kicking up its heels at anything that might seem objectionable and its head off in getting its growth and otherwise lead a life of freedom. Sometimes its antics would be encouraged by a lot of children almost as wild who would throw stones at it to make it "hump" itself or pursue it down the pasture to see it chase itself.

Then came a cruel end to these days of idleness. The colt was to be broken. A contrivance of straps and buckles was suddenly fastened on its head and a steel bar was shoved into its mouth. The horse breaker though he might be ever so gentle nevertheless was certain to start shudders of fright through the animal as little by little he completed its subjugation so it could be hitched to a vehicle. Later when he drove the young thing towards something which filled it with fear, he was likely to touch its flanks with the whip and still further add to its fright. By means of the leash the driver thought he was driving fear out of the colt's head whereas he was only increasing its terror.

Training Young Colts
A kindergarten for colts is advocated by Dr. J. C. Currier of St. Paul who is regarded as high authority on all matters pertaining to the horse. In the appendix of his book "Horse Sense" Dr. Currier tells how one may take a colt that is only an hour or a day old and successfully begin its education. First of all the infant animal is to be made accustomed to the touch of the hand. It is to learn that its master cares for it and loves it. At the first touch it may shrink instinctively but this congenital fear which it possesses because of the ill treatment that some of its ancestors may have received may be overcome gently and firmly.

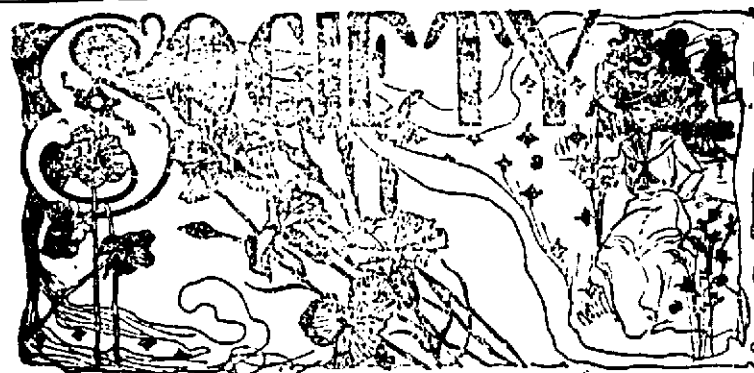

It is Dr. Currier's advice therefore to catch a colt that is about a day old and hold it tenderly with one hand about its neck and the other under its flanks. By pressing gently on the chest the colt will involuntarily move backward. Pressure from the other hand will make it move forward. Catching a colt by its neck is sure to make a mishap for the animal will plunge backward and both colt and trainer will go down in a heap. The young thing should be made accustomed gradually to the stroking of the hand over its body and all this while the master should endeavor to show that he is the stronger of the two.

Though not possessed of a large brain or wide range of intellect the horse has a most retentive memory. In later years when it is plodding up Broadway with a heavy truck at its heels it calls to mind many a trivial happening when it was a colt on the oil farm or out on the western prairie. Thus there is danger when giving the animal its earliest lesson, of making some mistake which only long and persistent efforts can overcome. Should a colt be permitted to break loose from its masters hold it will thereafter watch every opportunity to make a similar escape.

Should Never Be Frightened
While impressing the colt that its master is stronger than itself the animal should be taught to have confidence in mankind. It should never be frightened. When it obeys it should be rewarded. Sugar does a quick way to its affections. After a halter has been fastened on its head the first sense of bewilderment which the colt has can be appeased by letting it lick some granulated sugar on the outstretched hand. With the halter in place one should not try to jerk the animal about. By means of a rope passed around the animal's flanks and under the nose band of the halter a gentle pull on the halter at the same time pulls the animal's body and instinctively stimulates a forward motion. A horse is sensitive to pressure on the chest and in persuading a colt to back a backward pull on the halter should be accompanied by a firm push on the chest with the hand. A very obedient act on the part of the young horse should be rewarded with sugar or a kindly stroke.

Not Taught Too Much
Colts, like children should not be overeducated in their infancy. As Dr. Currier says: "Because the young colt is so susceptible to training is no reason that it should be taught a lot of things that are of no practical use, or because it is bright and full of play that it must be frightened to see it run taught tricks or allowed to become mischievous and bite kick rear kick or anything else that may seem cute while it is young but which later on may become a great annoyance and very hard to overcome."

WEATHER IS GOOD FOR GROWING CORN

Crop Has Made Splendid Growth Everywhere in the Country the Past Week.

The crop report issued today at Washington by the weather bureau says the temperature during the week ending July 13 was favorable in all districts east of the Rocky mountains and middle plateau regions. It was too cool, with frosts in exposed places. Portions of the lower Ohio and central Mississippi valleys, southern Florida, western Texas, northern Minnesota, and the southern Rocky mountain districts are in need of rain, but elsewhere there is ample moisture. Northern Iowa, southern Minnesota, and portions of south Atlantic and east gulf states having suffered from excessive rains.

Corn everywhere has made splendid growth and is much overplanted, though generally backward and in portions of the upper Ohio valley and middle Atlantic states is weedy. The early planted is now in tassell in the more northerly districts, and a considerable part of the crop has received final cultivation.

The general outlook for tobacco is promising, the least favorable reports being received from Ohio, where, however, the crop is doing fairly well.

The week has been favorable for harvesting winter wheat, which is largely completed, except in the more northerly regions. Thrashing has made good progress and the reports generally indicate light yields. A feature of the reports respecting winter wheat is the entire absence of injury to grain in stack and shock.

In northern Minnesota and North Dakota spring wheat is thin and heading short, and lodging is reported from portions of southern Minnesota and South Dakota, while rust is reported from the last named state and Iowa. In Kansas, Wisconsin, and the southern part of South Dakota spring wheat is heading well, and favorable reports are received from Washington and Oregon.

Considerable rust in oats is reported from Iowa, Missouri, and Illinois, and lodging from South Dakota and southern Minnesota. In North Dakota and northern Minnesota the crop is thin and heading short, but continues promising in Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Pennsylvania. Harvest is in general progress in the central valleys, good yields being reported from Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, but light yields from the states of the Ohio valley.

Throughout the cotton belt there has been a general improvement in cotton, which has made vigorous and healthy growth. There is, however, general complaint of grassy fields in the coast districts of the eastern section and in Texas, the crop being in a better state of cultivation in Mississippi and over the northern portion of the central districts. Boll weevil in Texas are less numerous.

Only a fair crop of apples is indicated in most of the principal apple states, the most favorable reports being received from Kansas and Iowa. Haying has been delayed by rains in Iowa, Wisconsin, and southern Minnesota, but elsewhere has made excellent progress. A heavy yield of clover and timothy is being secured in the central valleys.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, July 15, 1863.—The people of Maryland are generally glad that the rebels have left. They plundered much and destroyed more. Recent dispatches received at the war department state that 27,000 prisoners taken at Vicksburg had been paroled, but all were to remain till the whole were paroled.

A private letter from Capt. Miltimore mentions the fact that Captain Warren was reading the declaration of independence to a crowd of rebel prisoners. A pleasant entertainment for the butternuts! The captain also states that our soldiers were wild with enthusiasm and joy. There was never more reason or a better cause for rejoicing.

Honored.—Lieut. Col. W. E. Strong of Gen. McPherson's staff, formerly captain of the 2nd and major of the 12th Wisconsin was assigned the honor of raising the stars and stripes over the courthouse at Vicksburg, after the surrender.

Memphis.—Reports from the army of Vicksburg are all favorable. Sherman is pursuing Johnston with every prospect of destroying his entire army. The news of the fall of Port Hudson is hourly expected.

New York.—The mob riot has not yet ceased, although today will probably witness its end. There is no doubt that a vastly larger number were engaged in its yesterday than Monday.

tion; wild meadows from heavy rains are too wet.

Peas are in bloom and vines are well filled. Sugar beets have advanced greatly and are of fine quality.

Fruit
Raspberries have a heavy yield and all garden truck is in good condition. Apples and plum trees are casting much fruit. The heavy winds also caused much dropping and will shorten the crop to some extent; yet in some sections the crop is up to the average.

Southern Section
Waterloo, Jefferson county: Storm did much damage to hay and lodged grain; marshes are flooded; corn growing very rapidly.—D. J. Host.
Fillmore, Washington county: Warm weather and frequent showers helped corn and potatoes, but delayed haying; corn almost too large for cultivation.—H. W. Beger.
Clinton, Rock county: Corn has made rapid growth, and early plantings beginning to tassel; small grain is badly lodged; potatoes good.—W. S. Thom.

Highland, Iowa county: Some clover to be cut yet; corn and oats looking well; potatoes look good but bugs are very numerous; berries scarce.—Thomas F. Cody.

LOOK ALOFT, THE COMET IS COMING

Sky Tramp Is Only 30,000,000 Miles Away, But It Can Be Seen.

Have you seen the Morely comet yet? The sky tramp may be seen any night at 8 o'clock hanging in the west.

The comet has two tails, neither of which is large enough yet to enable the capture of the wanderer with salt.

It is many years since Janesville has had such a spectacle in the sky. It is 20,000,000,000 miles away, or nearly as far as home from the golf links after the last car has gone. Here are some of the effects of the comet that will be seen in Janesville in the coming weeks:

The Comet Neck—A condition of paralysis of the neck muscles, resulting from prolonged comet gazing. The victim may be recognized on the street by having his face turned constantly toward the sky.

Comet Parties—These will be held on roofs. Soft drinks and comet cocktails will be the proper thing.

The Comet Look—This will take the place of the far away look.

The Comet Cigar—Its odor will be distinguishable 20,000,000,000 miles.

Will Arrest Feudists.

Greenup, Ky., July 15.—Thirty warrants have been sworn out for the men who broke up a festival at the Roman Catholic church on Coal Branch. A pitched battle occurred between the Whiteley and Bartee factions, in which over 100 shots were fired.

Averts a Lynching.

New Orleans, La., July 15.—United States Senator Foster by his persuasive power of oratory saved a negro from a mob bent on a lynching. The negro was wanted for an attack upon Mrs. Rene Hohart, the wife of a planter of St. Mary's parish.

Murderer Admits Guilt.

London, July 15.—Dougal, the notorious Moat farm murderer, was hanged in Chelmsford. He slept well all night, ate a good breakfast and told the chaplain at the last moment on the scaffold that he was guilty and that the sentence was just.

Tornado Kills and Injures.

Cozad, Neb., July 15.—A tornado passed eight miles north of here, killing one person and injuring three others. The dead: Samuel Henry, a farmhand. The injured: Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths; Miss Anderson, a nurse.

White Children Slaves.

New Brunswick, N. J., July 15.—"Mother" Jones addressed a crowd from a truck in behalf of children in the factories. The slavery of the blacks, she said, was nothing compared to that of the children in the mills today.

Weekly Crop Report.

The continued rains and high temperatures during the past week have been greatly beneficial to all growing crops; being especially conducive to the rapid growth of corn and potatoes.

The temperature has ranged generally between 50 degrees and 90 degrees during the day and the nights continued warm; some quite low temperatures occurring, however, after the heavy rains; the rains of the 9th and 10th were especially severe, and considerable damage to hay is reported; while the heavy rains caused much lodging of small grains and to fruit trees. A hail-storm of great severity passed over Polk county, doing considerable local damage. Thunderstorms were heavy and severe throughout the state on the 9th and 10th.

Corn
Owing to the continued rains and high temperature, corn has made rapid progress, the stand is strong and color excellent and is generally reported as being almost up to the average growth. The early varieties are tasseling, some lodging resulted from the storms but no damage was done.

Winter Wheat and Rye
Wheat is rapidly approaching maturity, the head is well filled and the straw though strong is considerably lodged.

A considerable acreage of rye has been harvested; the yields of both look very satisfactory except in a few localities where lodging has affected the crop.

Oats, Barley and Spring Wheat
Oats are headed out and are of fair growth; the general complaint is of the rust and the shortness of the head. Barley, however, is of a good growth and stand, the head is well filled and rapidly ripening. Spring wheat is in blossom and promises a good yield, although the result of lodging will affect the harvest.

Potatoes
Potatoes materially progressed during the past week and are in excellent condition. However the bugs which are extremely numerous, have done much damage; some early potatoes ready for market.

Tobacco
The first planting presents a strong healthy growth and during the past week has made remarkable progress. Fields affected in the early spring have all been transplanted.

Hay
Hay is progressing rapidly, although much retarded by the late heavy rains; considerable damage is reported to cut clover in all sections, the yield promises heavy. Timothy is almost ready for cutting and the promise of a heavy crop is good.

Pastures are in excellent condition.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and tomorrow.

THE PAN-AMERICAN RAILWAY

This great enterprise is not left out in the cold. It advances too slowly, but it advances. It was a favorite among Mr. Blaine's projects in the Pan-American congress of 1902. One of the members of that congress was Mr. Carnegie. He was an influential member of the railroad committee, and has believed in it thoroughly ever since.

This is his position: That Congress appointed a good working committee, which divided the business of surveys and other examinations between eight boards of engineers. On most of these boards were officers of our army. They were not expected to make surveys in detail; but together, or separately, and always in concert with the local governments, they made in the next five years, a series of reports which were finally presented to our government. These reports, after some delay, were printed, with full maps of the routes now existing, and of the lines proposed for survey.

Speaking roughly the complete line from Quebec to Patagonia, with the branches most necessary, will be about seven thousand miles in length. Of this rather more than a third part is already constructed. The Mexican Central American, and South American States are diligently at work on systems, which will come into the general system.

There are six elegant volumes which contain these reports. They are all in English, and in Spanish also, for the convenience of those who use them in either of the two continents. The only delay for which complaint can reasonably be made, is the omission of all serious action by our Congress in the years since they have been completed, but even these years have been occupied, as has been said, in the construction of some parts of the lines.

The second Pan-American Congress held in Mexico eighteen months since took up the matter again, published resolutions approving of the work which had been done already and looking forward to more definite work in the future. It seems a pity that our congress at its last session did not act on the recommendations thus made, but there were many other things to do, as is well known.

In preparation for the next congress, our Bureau of South American Republics has sent Mr. Charles M. Pepper, a gentleman well informed on all the conditions of the enterprise through South America, with instructions that he shall report definitely on the present condition of things and the needs of the immediate future, before our session next winter. With Mr. Pepper's reports there will be an opportunity to press the work which has already attracted intelligent attention.

Our own view is definite that on this great occasion this nation should avoid the error made when our lines to the Pacific fell into the hands of large corporations, to which the general government is in some sort tributary. The enterprise which should give to the United States a line of railway extending from northern New York to our southern frontier in Mexico, is an enterprise none too large for this nation. Such a piece of railway property will be more and more valuable every year of the century. It is not to be expected that the small South American states shall contribute to the great enterprise in proportion to the length of line which may fall within their respective borders. This would be like asking small mountain towns in Pennsylvania or Massachusetts to contribute to the cost of the great engineering expenses which follow upon mountain regions.

But our government has no reason for being stingy in its appropriation for so great a work. The rough estimate of the Commission proposes one hundred and seventy-five millions of dollars for the completed work. It will cost more than that if it is completed as it should be. But this amount, when divided among ten or fifteen years, makes so small an annual payment it would scarcely appear among the larger items of our large expenditure. E. E. HALE.

COLLEGE BOYS.

"Work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The old axiom is true. Too close confinement to one task is liable to stunt the growth of the mind and system and make the life narrow and without ambition. Too much delving into dusty books and living in the days of the Socrates and Caesar will not only burn the midnight oil but will make the boy of today a weak puny individual with lots of book learning and little or no experience of life. The harvest field offers the best chance for the college boy of this summer to secure not only recreation from books but to also to build up the physical man for next winter's work. Kansas applied for men. East and west labor bureaus have been trying to furnish them with a sufficient supply to harvest the crops. Among the lot sent out from New York recently were many college men who were going on a pleasure trip with little work and big pay. Mere pay from their daily tasks of brain at college. Just a little physical exertion and recreation. Their idea of the farm had probably been received from a visit to a well kept dairy or a summer home. It will be really pitiful to see the startling revelations that they are forced to confront. Work from four until late at night. Good food, wholesome and clean but of a variety that many had but dreamed of existing. Work that for a few moments had been play will now be a Herculean labor. Beds that are made of the ever-sticking straw or husks and little or no water for bathing purposes. To the ordinary farm bred boy these have no horrors, but the college bred man it will be awful. Their white untanned skin will be blistered and their soft hands too painful to close. They do not know how to milk a cow, any more than they know how to properly to drive a reaper, or stack the straw. They are learning a lesson of life. They are following the old bible teaching. "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy daily bread." If they are true Americans they will stick the game out. They will not give up for burned faces and blistered hands, and lame backs and sore legs. They will go back east to college strong and sturdy with a goodly amount of respect for the man who works on the farm to supply the world with food. It will be a lesson for those eastern students better than they ever learned in books and which no college professor could instill them into. The Americans today, in the east, have too small an idea of just how the mass of the people live, and the more they can see of the real hard daily toil of the farmer, the better they will be fitted for positions in later life where such matters are often brought into play.

LIKES IT.

We like the Milwaukee Free Press. It is such a delightful organ, full of sympathy and good will toward everybody. If there was ever a paper that ever tried to live up to the golden rule the Free Press is it. —Palmyra Enterprise.

The above is from the Free Press. Does that worthy paper believe such stuff or are they so dull they can't catch the biting sarcasm that runs through every line and separates every letter distinctly.

The Powers should have a decidedly improved opinion of the American navy after all those banquets they were treated to. Paul Jones had England going during the Revolutionary war and he never held even one swell dinner on board Bon Richard.

It might be a good advertising scheme for some breakfast food concern to furnish the navy free with the "stuff" so that they might say that Admiral Cotton cottoned up his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with their particular species of sawdust.

If this country should join England in the great Anglo-Saxon alliance and England is in an alliance with Japan what sort of a relationship would Uncle Sam and the Mikado be to each other?

It is too bad that John Mitchell can not do two things at the same time. He is an ideal labor advocate and leader and he should have one of him's in Chicago all the time.

King Edward says Admiral Cotton is all wool and a yard wide. Just how he makes that out would be interesting to discover for how can cotton be wool anyway.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee Journal: The Madison Journal might as well abandon its matrimonial bureau business. It's a failure in that line. Think of the weary months it spent trying to get up a union between the half breeds and stalwarts.

Milwaukee Sentinel: President Wheeler of the university of California is arraigned for smoking cigarettes in the presence of his students. Judgment should be suspended until it is stated what brand President Wheeler smokes.

BROWNELL AND MACLEAN WIN

WILL PLAY IN FINALS FOR RICHARDSON MEDAL.

AT THE SINNISSIPPI LINKS

Mixed Foursome for Nine Holes—Ladies' Putting Contest Around the Clock.

Possession of the Richardson medal for the coming year lies between Leo Brownell and Colin C. MacLean. In the presence of a generous gallery the semi-finals in the contest were played off yesterday afternoon. Brownell was matched against C. S. Dunn. He put up a cyclonic game, negotiating the first round in forty. Only four holes of the second round were required to decide the match. When the thirteenth hole was reached Brownell was six up, with five to play.

C. C. MacLean defeated his man, Orion Sutherland, by a narrower margin. He won by three up and two to play. Both men were playing splendid golf.

The handicaps of the winners are Brownell 4 and MacLean 6. Mixed Foursome Followed. J. P. Baker and Mrs. Fred Howe, handicapped 6, captured the first prize in a handicap mixed foursome which followed the match event. Their net score was 50. Net scores of 51 were handed in by R. W. Hill and Mrs. H. S. McGiffin, handicapped 12, and by C. C. MacLean and Mrs. P. L. Myers, whose handicap was 6. Second and third prizes were divided between them.

Five other pairs were entered in the contest, the highest handicap being 12. C. Dunn and Mrs. J. C. Page played at scratch. The other players were H. S. McGiffin and Marcia Jackson, 6; J. Caldwell and Wilma McGiffin, 12; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. King, 6; Mark Bostwick and Elizabeth Wilcox, 10.

The ladies' putting contest resulted in victory for Mrs. Fred Howe, whose score was 19.

Supper With New Chef. Loud praise was awarded Frank Kent, the new chef, for the supper which was served following the matches. About fifty were present. According to the Rockford Star, the return match with Janesville will be played at Rockford next Tuesday. If that is the case the officials of the Sinissippi club have not yet heard of it. The present program calls for the finals in the Richardson play on next Tuesday, although there is still time to close the date with the Rockford Country club.

Not in Tournament. The western open championship tournament began at Milwaukee today, but Janesville is not represented. For the first time since the organization of the Western Golf association the name of the Sinissippi golf club is not included in the membership roll. At the beginning of the year it was decided to withdraw on the ground that the benefits derived were not sufficient recompense for the annual dues. Without it the club can secure all the outside matches that it desires at the present time.

In the state tourney which is held at Racine July 20 to August 1, the Sinissippi club will be represented by several players, probably Leo Brownell, Al Schaller, and Fred Baker.

The nine head players on the club team, in their rank, are Leo Brownell, Fred Baker, Al Schaller, Charles Schaller, Carter, J. P. Baker, Achterberg, MacLean and McGiffin.

MUST NOT WEAR THE SHIRT WAIST

Northwestern Trainmen Are To Wear Vests, as Well as Coats, When on Duty.

The officials of the North-Western system have placed a ban upon shirt waists and have issued a circular letter to the effect that all employees, including conductors and brakemen of passenger trains, must wear a vest. The order takes effect at once.

The company does not care how cool the men dress but they must wear vests. If the regulation blue uniform vest is considered too warm for summer wear the men will be allowed to wear the white uniform vest. Shirt waists may be worn but the vest must cover them while the men are in charge of or working upon the passenger trains of the company.

The men that will be affected the most by the new order are the passenger conductors and brakemen. These men have gradually adopted the shirt waist since its introduction among men and it has been very comfortable. The company, however, does not like the looks of the garment and it therefore must be abandoned. In addition the company insists that soft collars are not dressy and the stiff collar must be worn in the future while the men are on duty.

Shirt Waists Down

Ryan versus C. C. MacLean, dismissed. Case of Welden Williams and Lick versus Peter L. Myers, settled out of court.

GRAIN BUYERS ARE ORGANIZED

Met Yesterday Afternoon at the Grand Hotel, for That Purpose.

Janesville grain buyers held a meeting at the Grand hotel yesterday afternoon for the purpose of forming a state organization. To be known as the Wisconsin Grain Buyers association. All the grain buyers of the state will combine to perfect the present methods of grain inspection and arrange a more uniform system of buying. Up to this time, every state but Wisconsin has such a union. The Iowa association includes seven hundred elevators and at the recent convention in that state hundreds of the members were present and much enthusiasm was shown. Julius Spoerl, of Milwaukee is secretary of the Wisconsin organization, and was present at the meeting yesterday.

Representatives from the Spoon elevators, the Doty mill, the Blodgett mill, and the Milwaukee Elevator company were present. A convention of all the grain buyers of the state will be held at Milwaukee on Thursday of next week. A business meeting is scheduled for the morning and in the afternoon the delegates will be escorted to Whitefish Bay, the noted summer resort, north of Milwaukee. A dinner and smoker for the visiting grain men is on the program.

FORM WISCONSIN RUBBER COMPANY

TWO JANESVILLE MEN INTERESTED IN CONCERN.

ITS CAPITALIZED AT $60,000

Main Object is To Develop the Country in Mexico, Where Land Is Located.

Frank C. Hutson and Edward S. Carpenter of this city yesterday were among the incorporators of the Wisconsin Rubber company which filed articles with the secretary of state. This company is the outcome of the trip recently made by the party of gentlemen in Mexico the accounts of which from time to time appeared in the Gazette. The capital stock is named as $60,000 divided into five thousand shares of $300 each making the total valuation of the company a million and a half.

The Company. The incorporators of the company are Rasmus B. Anderson, Madison, president; Dr. Charles Hall, Madison, vice president; Frederick Hutson, Janesville, treasurer; Samuel Merrick, Madison, secretary; and Edwin C. Carpenter, Janesville, attorney. Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Hutson were two of the party of four that recently inspected the property and exploited the advantages of the country and holdings of the company.

Many Privileges. According to the articles filed the new company can build anything from a windmill to ocean liner and can operate electric roads or run canals. They can establish towns, villages and cities. Can be quarry owners, brick makers, builders, contractors of work, both public and private buildings, merchants, importers and exporters, printers, publishers, shipbuilders, ship owners, and bankers and any other business which may seem calculated to effectuate the settling and development of the country.

The holdings of the company are located in the state of Chiapas in the department of Plaque, Mexico. They consist of five thousand acres of choice land which is aptly adapted to the growth of rubber trees and other tropical products. The headquarters of the company will be in Madison where Mr. Hutson will shortly move to take charge of the office. At the plantation work will be begun at once to clear the undergrowth off and make ready for planting.

Up the River. The plantation is located on the Tula river one hundred and fifty miles from the gulf of Mexico. At present the representative of the company in Mexico is making arrangements with the Chinese government to import three hundred coolies to work on the plantation and complete the clearing already begun.

AGED RESIDENT DIED SUDDENLY

Ell Leavitt Passed Away Yesterday, While at Work in His Garden.

While at work in his garden yesterday afternoon Ell Leavitt was stricken down by the angel of death and was found dead by his wife, who came to call him into the house. Up to the moment of his death he had seemed as well as usual and his sudden demise comes as a shock to his sorrowing wife and friends. Mr. Leavitt has suffered for many years from heart failure and it is thought that over-exertion brought on the last attack that caused his death. He had been working about his garden all the morning and when last seen was hoeing some tomato plants. He was found a few minutes later lying face downwards, but the breath of life had fled.

Thirty-four Years. Mr. Leavitt had lived in Janesville for thirty-four years. His little home at 114 Madison street was noted for its hospitality and both he and his wife were loved by their neighbors and friends. Born in Batavia, New York, in 1818 he spent his early days on the farm of his parents. He came west and in August of 1845 was united in marriage to Miss Caroline S. Brown, the daughter of the late Rev. Harvey Brown, a noted Methodist divine of New York. Mrs. Leavitt and one son, Edward, living in Los Angeles survive. In 1845 he moved to Peru, Illinois, where for some years he was in the manufacturing industry and conducted a lumber yard. Owing to ill health he was forced to give this up in 1867 and removed to Janesville in 1869 where he has since resided.

Well Beloved. Both Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt have attended the Congregational church for many years and Rev. Denison, the pastor of the Congregational church, will be the officiating clergyman at the funeral which will occur Thursday afternoon at three o'clock from the residence. The interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery. His death will lessen the number of old settlers who are ever becoming fewer and fewer and his many friends will grieve with his wife in the loss of a true friend and christian gentleman.

BOY THROWN OVER HEADS OF HORSES

Wagon From Hayner Farm Mixed Up In Runaway Shortly After Noon Today.

After describing a parabola over the heads of a team of horses a youngster alighted on the grass near the corner of the courthouse park. The bystanders who hastened to the spot, expecting to find the lad groaning from broken bones and bruised muscles, found him delighted by his aerial trip.

The little fellow was in a wagon from the Hayner dairy, which carries milk to the Shurtliff creamery. At the time the wagon contained a number of milk cans. The team started to run away on South Main street early this afternoon hitting a lively clip as they jerked the wagon along the road. At the courthouse corner the wagon came into contact with a lamp post, the team stopped, the milk cans tumbled into the street, but the little boy kept on going, much to his joy when he discovered that he had vaulted the horses' backs and was still unharmed.

LECTURE CAR TO BE HERE VERY SOON

Northwestern Air Brake Instruction School Will Open Here Shortly.

The Chicago & North-Western new air brake instruction car will be in Janesville from July 22nd to 25th, and notices have been posted in the company's offices to the effect that all train men and engine men are asked to attend at least one of the lectures while the car is in this division. This car is a new one and has much more room than the old coach. The company hopes that every employe interested will take advantage of its presence in this city.

Miss Vinnie Clark. The funeral of Miss Vinnie Clark will be held at the Oak Hill cemetery chapel tomorrow morning, Thursday, at nine o'clock. The Reverend R. C. Denison will officiate. The funeral had been planned earlier, but owing to a delay caused by a wreck on the Wabash railway, the body will not arrive until this evening.

MAY CONDUCT A GROCERY BAKERY

ASSOCIATION PLANS COOPERATIVE PROJECT.

DONE IN SELF PROTECTION

Grocers' Organization Does Not Like Latest Ruling of the Bakeries.

Early this week word was given the grocers of this city that no more unsold bread would be accepted by the two bakeries from which a large part of the bakery supplies are purchased by grocers. This action crystallized a hitherto unexpressed purpose on the part of several dealers to begin plans for a co-operative bakery under the management of the grocers' association. The plan was freely discussed at the meeting of the association last night.

For Grocers' Supply. There seemed to be a general unanimity of opinion in favor of such a project. The grocers of the city, so it is stated, handle a sufficient quantity of bakery goods to be able to busy a bakery which did not attempt to do any retail trade. The action of the bakeries in refusing to take back bread which the grocers could not dispose of had created an unpleasant feeling against the bakeries.

Plans Well Advanced. When the matter had been canvassed it was found that plans were in a fairly definite shape at present. Although it is not desired to make it public, the association has a site in view which could be readily utilized for the purpose. No details regarding the probable management of the bakery were made public. It is understood, however, that there will be an attempt to operate it as a convenience rather than as a source of revenue.

PERU'S CAPITAL CITY

THE CENTER OF THE EMPIRE
FOUNDED BY PIZARRO.High-Sounding Name Conferred Upon
It by Carlos V. of Spain—Historical Reminiscences That Force Themselves Upon the Visitor.

(Special Correspondence.)

Pizarro, the ex-swineherd, must have been rather hard up for names when he dubbed his Peruvian capital La Ciudad de Los Tres Reyes, the "City of the Three Kings." It came about in this way: After he had subdued one of the royal brothers who claimed the Inca throne and treacherously strangled the other, he found little difficulty in conquering Cuzco, the splendid "City of Gold," which was at that time the capital of Peru. As soon as he and his few European followers, a band of drunken adventurers whom Spain was glad to be rid of, had glutted themselves with the vast treasures of that place, they marched westward, not so much in search of new worlds to conquer as to find a more convenient spot in which to enjoy their ill-gotten gains. They did not relish being surrounded on all sides by Indians who, although subdued, outnumbered them 100 to 1; but preferred to be within sight of the sea, the broad highway that led toward home.

This emerald valley of Rimac, with a river running through it, the ocean on one side and the towering Andes on the other, combined all the advantages they sought. So here they established the second Spanish city in South America, which soon grew to be one of the proudest and most luxuriant capitals of those profligate days and continued to be the seat of a corrupt viceregal court for three centuries. It happened that Pizarro designated its site on Jan. 6, 1555 (old style), the day of the festival of the epiphany, or the manifestation of our Savior to the magi, who in King James' version of the new testament are called the wise men from the east, but are known in all the old Spanish traditions as the "The Kings." Hence he made a tremendous celebration of that feast of the epiphany and christened his capital accordingly.

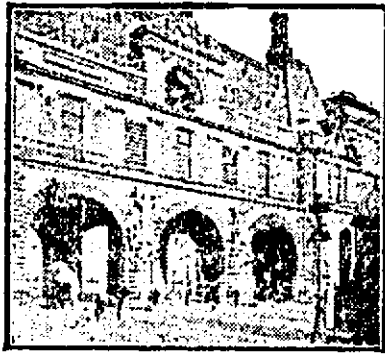

Then Carlos V. of Spain sent over not only his benediction and congratulations, but added some complimentary words to its already ponderous title, making it "The Most Noble and Most Royal City of the Three Kings"—so it appears in the original charter. But that was altogether too long a title for every-day use and so the easy-going Spaniards fell into the habit of calling it "The City of Lima," the latter being the name of the valley in which it stands and also of the river that runs through it.

One walks about the streets of Lima as in a dream, oppressed by a multitude of historical reminiscences that crowd upon the memory. Here a long line of viceroys ruled with almost independent power, not only over the territory that now constitutes the republic of Peru, but also the vast provinces of Chile, La Plata and New Granada, including the modern divisions of Ecuador and Bolivia. Here Santa Rosa, la patrona de todas las Americas, "the patroness of all the Americas," was born and died, the only American woman of the northern or southern continents who ever had the honor of canonization. Here stout-hearted Pizarro was assassinated by "the men of Chile," the avengers of Almagro's murder, and here his bones repose in the crypt of the great cathedral. The churches and convents of Lima were as magnificent as any in Europe and endowed with incalculable wealth. The Colegio de San Marcos, the oldest college in America, was founded here in 1551, just sixty-nine years before the pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth, and fifty-eight years before Hendrik Hudson sailed into the harbor of New York.

Here, too, were centered the products of the mines of Potosi and Cerro del Pasco—of Puno, Castro and Velazco—those Eldorados about which fables were told that set all the world agog. In 1861, I think it was, La Pata, then viceroy of Lima, rode through these streets on a horse quakes have repeatedly shaken this city from center to circumference, and the innumerable wars and revolutions have drenched its streets with blood. By and by the silver veins of Saldo ran dry, and the sands of Carabaya were no longer washed for gold, and the world had discovered that away up north were two new states—California and Nevada—which could supply more silver every year than Pasco and Potosi and all the other mines of New Spain put together. The conquered Indians could no longer be paroled out to the favorites of power under the abominable law of La Mena, nor the negroes be compelled to pay to the rich the tribute of unrequited labor.

Yet the profligate city of the Three Kings flourished more gayly and luxuriantly, if possible, than ever; for a richer fountain of wealth had been opened than any of the older sources. In the guano islands, scattered all along the arid coast—those rocky and forbidden haunts of seals and sea birds which were the terror of the early mariner. For half a century they poured into the lap of Lima a more than Danaan shower of gold. Then came darker days of cruel warfare and bitter poverty, after a sister republic had stripped the country of everything available; and though starvation stared them in the face the descendants of the haughty grandees had no idea of the dignity of labor, till the Grace-Donoughmore enterprises of the present day brought the dawn of a new era of prosperity.

Modern Lima is about ten miles in circumference, but as a large part of its area is laid out in gardens and public squares the whole is by no means densely populated. The old walls of the city which that energetic vice king, La Pata, caused to be built in 1683, described an irregular oval on the left bank of the Rimac, about three miles long by a mile and a half wide. They were from eighteen to twenty-four feet high and twenty feet thick, and were entered by twelve gates. But they were never of much use except to facilitate the collection of local duty and to afford an elevated paseo, or bridge path, for equestrians, and were demolished long ago. The city's present population is variously estimated between 100,000 to 125,000. Much of the beautiful region round about was laid waste by the Chilean army during the recent wars and has not been rebuilt. The invaders were as merciless and as needlessly cruel as they were completely victorious. In the battle that decided the fate of Lima hundreds of country villas and all the suburban villages were burned to the ground. Thus Chorillos, the Long Branch of the coast, was entirely destroyed. A railway leads from Chorillos to Lima, passing through the once lovely village of Miraflores, whose name, literally translated, means "See the flowers."

The Chileans landed at Chorillos and, having reduced that town to ashes, they marched along the line of the railroad to Lima, ruthlessly destroying everything on the route. For one whole night Lima was in the hands of a mob of armed soldiers, who had broken loose from all restraint and were as bloodthirsty and unfeeling as so many Sepoys, and they were only prevented from entirely burning and sacking the city by the energy of the British minister and other members of the diplomatic corps, backed by the English and French admirals, whose warships were in the harbor at Callao. It is said that there are 1,500 foreigners in Lima, and no fewer than 6,000 priests. The latter are met at every step, in black robes and white, gray cowls and shovel hats, monks of all orders and varieties of habit and clergy of every grade.

Odd Sightings in the Hospitals.

Very strange episodes take place at times in the free clinics of hospitals where the poor go. The other day a young resident physician was dressing a burn on a middle-aged man's hand. The man all the while kept crying, "Oh, mother, mother, won't you come and take me away from here?" An hour later a youth who sat waiting for treatment suddenly leaped up and ran out and away at full speed. "The groans and shrieks have scared him. We often have patients run away like that," a physician explained, smiling. "Last week," he went on, "a colored woman with a broken finger sang hymns at the top of her lungs while we were treating her. The colored in these crises nearly always sing or pray. The Germans stand pain with great stoicism. An occasional grunt is the only concession they make to physical suffering. The Irish groan a little, but at the same time they laugh and joke. The Frenchman in pain weeps like a child. The Yankee swears.—Philadelphia Record.

JANESVILLE MEN ARE APPOINTEDH. W. Phelps and John Johnson Are Given Places on Standing Committees at Convention.

Two Janesville men were appointed on the standing committees of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor which opened its annual convention at Manitowish, H. W. Phelps on the constitution committee and John A. Johnson on the committee on secretary-treasurer's report.

Mr. Phelps is attending the meeting as delegate from the Trades Council and Mr. Johnson from the cigar makers' union.

Union Notes

A delegate will be sent to the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Boston in November. Timothy F. McKelue and Harry Haycock have been nominated as delegate and a selection will be made at the next meeting of the council.

During the past month practically every union has elected officers. Two vacancies in the Trades Council have been filled. John Oshorn has been elected vice president and T. F. McKelue a member of the auditing committee.

The big labor gathering of the year, up to this time, will be the excursion to Milwaukee Sunday, where prominent speakers will appear.

An intelligence office has been established by the laborers' union, where laborers may be secured. The Wisconsin 'phone No. 562 has been installed.

WILL HAVE A GUN
SHOOT NEXT MONTHGun Club Plans For A B g Contest
To Be Held Near the End of August.

Plans are being made for a big shoot toward the last of August to be held under the auspices of the gun club. The date has not been fixed, but will probably be considered at a meeting which is to be held within a week or two.

A representative of the U. M. C. company is largely responsible for the interest which has been taken in the meet, and he will probably be in charge of the meet.

Interest in the club has increased greatly of late, and while several members are out of the city, the membership roll is nearly twice what it was last year.

The next club shoot will occur a week from tomorrow.

Benwitz-Maine

Miss Mary Benwitz and Leroy Maine were married at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Herman A. Jaeger, 7 Park avenue, brother-in-law of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend C. J. Koerner, of St. Paul's Lutheran church. In the presence of relatives and friends of the happy couple. At five o'clock this afternoon a wedding supper will be served after which Mr. and Mrs. Maine will leave on a wedding trip to Milwaukee. Upon their return they will reside at 105 Galena street. Arthur Maine, brother of the groom, was best man and Miss Ella Benwitz was maid of honor. Mrs. Maine has resided with Mr. and Mrs. Jaeger for a number of years and both she and her husband are well known in Janesville and have many friends.

STORY PLOT IS GUIDE
TO A WIFE MURDERERHusband Is Arrested for Killing
Spouse, and Is Alleged to Have Followed Author's Scheme.

Greencastle, Ind., July 15.—Henry M. Seward has been arrested for the murder of his wife, Alice M. Seward. The murder occurred in May. It is said to have been a duplicate of one described in a detective story found in the Seward house the night of the crime, in which a hammer was used as the weapon in the Seward murder.

When arrested the husband said: "Gentlemen, I hope you have evidence enough to hang me." The evening of the murder Seward rushed to a neighbor's house and reported having found his wife dead on the bedroom floor at home with her head crushed in. He said he had just returned from a field where he had been plowing. He thought a negro tramp who had been in the vicinity of the house had committed the crime.

TOBACCO MEN BREAK THE LAW.

Dealers Warned Against Separating
Goods From Stamped Package.

Washington, July 15.—A circular of instructions to internal revenue officers and others concerned has been issued by the commissioner of internal revenue. It calls attention to gross irregularities and violations of law in the handling and sale of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes by jobbers and dealers. A practice generally prevails of exposing the taxable articles for sale while separated from the packages bearing the stamps denoting the payment of the internal revenue tax. This, it is said, is a serious violation of the law which it is the purpose of the commissioner to remedy.

Jobbers and dealers are given until Nov. 1 to get their stocks in order, after which date all manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes found on the market and not protected by stamps will be seized and the holders punished.

ON BAPTIST MINISTERSisters Force Consent of Preacher to His Daughter's Marriage With Their Brother.

Toledo, O., July 15.—Because Rev. Martin Harris, a Baptist preacher in the Matamor district, refused to allow Harvey Carter to marry his pretty daughter Minnie, he was whipped with a cowhide by the older sisters of the would-be bridegroom until he gave his consent to the marriage, which is to take place in August.

Rev. Mr. Harris, who is a widower, told Carter that his daughter's duty was to take care of her father and that while he was not old yet he would be some day, and then he would need her. The young man was discouraged, but his sisters were not. They waylaid the minister and as he was entering his home they demanded his consent to the match.

This Harris stubbornly refused and the women began to ply their cowhide whips over his head and shoulders. Desisting a moment and finding him still obdurate, they plied their whips again until he begged for mercy and promised to do anything they wished.

The preacher's daughter was at a neighbor's where she had gone to meet her lover. This was known to the sisters, but not to Rev. Mr. Harris. The Carter girls then went after the couple and in their presence the preacher gave his consent to the wedding.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

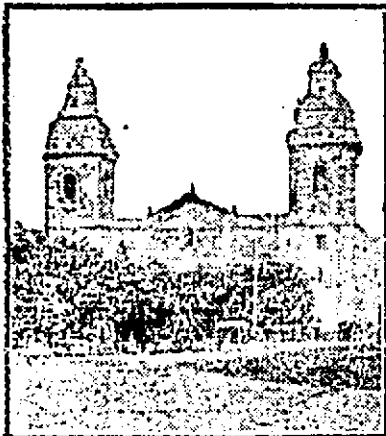

A woman has ideals till she gets married; a man after he gets married.

The average man saves money one place so as to be able to put it where he is squandering it somewhere else.

It takes a woman to convince herself that what is scandal for some other woman to do is only an indiscretion when she does it.

The man who couldn't guess to save his life what kind of stockings his wife wears can always tell what kind any woman has on that he sees get on a street car.

A girl has such will power about some things that she will let a man go on making love to her when a mosquito is biting her knee, without ever letting him know it.—New York Press.

whose mane was strung with pearls and whose shoes were of pure gold, over a broad pavement made of solid nuggets of silver. To its sea gate, Callao, came the galleons of the east, bringing silks and spices from Cathay and the Philippine Islands; and following fast in their wake came the buccaniers, Rogers, Anson, Hawkins, Drake and others, all eager to snatch from the treasure ships the rich booty which even the virgin queen did not disdain to share with her loyal freebooters of the South Sea and the Spanish main.

These things all belong to the distant past, but no less interesting are the events of the last half-century, even of the present decade. Earth-
